ORDER:

Andhra Pradesh was emerged as a fast growing economic State. Economic growth of the State was 9.07% during 2004-09 as against 8.49% at national level. Andhra Pradesh has achieved 11% growth rate in industries sector as against 9% at national level during 2004-09. Andhra Pradesh's food grains production was recorded an unprecedented average annual growth rate of 8.98% for the period 2004-09, as against the nation's 1.9%. Hyderabad is known as the bulk drug capital of the country. Due to the availability of mines and mineral resources Andhra Pradesh has become the pioneer in cement and granite industry and leading in the sectors like Steel, Ceramics, Glass, Sponge Iron, Ferro Alloys etc. The State is pioneer in the paper industry and stands 2nd place in textile industry and production of spices. Further, the State is the third largest producer of foodgrains, second in rice production, milk production, fish production, fruits production and leading in poultry and meat production.

2. During the last 6 years, industries established in the State are unprecedented. 21,437 small, medium and large industries have been established with an investment of Rs 42,820 crores creating employment to about 4.90 lakh persons.

3. Andhra Pradesh has the second longest sea coast of 974 kms giving a scope for promotion of trade and commerce through establishment of number of ports. In the recent past, the state could get the notification of Petroleum, Chemical, Petrochemical Investment Region (PCPIR) project in an area of 604 sq. kms between Kakinada and Visakhapatnam and is poised to attract large number of investments both domestic and FDIs in the Chemical & Petrochemical sectors.

4. Keeping in view of potential availability of huge natural gas resources in the KG basin, Andhra Pradesh State has geared up to utilize the advantage of the resources and keen to promote fertiliser plants, power plants, manufacturing industries etc. Government of Andhra Pradesh is taking steps to promote city gas distribution network in the entire State to cater to the requirements of domestic, transportation and industrial sector.

5. Now Government of India is coming up with National Manufacturing and Investment Zones (NMIZs) to promote manufacturing sector by aggressively to achieve 25% of the GDP from the existing 16%. The State Government is already working in similar lines and promoting industrial corridors giving a focus on various potential sectors.

6. State Government has created an investor friendly environment with the most attractive industrial policies, single window clearances and State apex bodies like State Investment Promotion Committee headed by the Chief Secretary and State Investment Promotion Board headed by the Hon'ble Chief Minister for taking quick decisions on the policy issues and to ensure hassle free environment for the prospective investors.
